“ I always felt loved, welcomed, and shown interest by my precious Aunt Alene. From my earliest memories she was present in family visits. She and I corresponded since I was a preteen. She modeled to me how a loving aunt keeps present and makes an impact on nieces and nephews. I learned so much from her. Many times she gifted me with handmade pieces of crochet, aprons, pot holders, jams, pickles, seed, flower cuttings and never ever forgot my birthday. I've heard her tell stories, rode in her station wagon down gravel roads, laugh, eat a picnic lunch, eat a country supper with cornbread, see her spray her hair with Aqua Net, perfume herself with Avon before leaving the house in a pretty dress and picket book on arm. She became another grandmother when our Mama Creasy passed. We fished, ate fish with hush puppies and slaw, went rock hunting in the Corinth Branch, and sat on the front porch hearing the latest news. I always prayed with her when I visited in later years.

My Aunt Alene has left a profound impression on my life. I visited her 3 weeks ago on her good day! I prayed with her and upon finishing she raised her arms and said, "Praise God, Halalujah." This was my last time to see her. There you go, Praise God Halalujah...she's home. Pam Creasy Rawls

“ Some of my fondest childhood memories were spent at Aunt Alene's house with family. Even though she was my aunt, in many ways she reminded me of a loving caring grandmother. I will always remember the delicious southern meals she prepared. I remember that meal time often consisted of 2 or more meats, and many bowls of fresh vegetables. She was an expert in the kitchen. She baked cakes, pies, biscuits and cornbread. Her house was usually the gathering place where she welcomed all of the family. I will certainly miss Aunt Alene.

“ I remember 39 years ago when Tony's Aunt Alene welcomed me into the family. I'll never forget her kindness that she always gave to me. I also cherished the quilt that she made for our firstborn daughter Audrey Lynn. Of course I will remember her cooking! She has gone home at last to live on in our hearts and memories. We will. Miss her.
