“ Dear Don, "I Did It My Way" - yes, that is your song as well as the song of all of your brothers. Each of us, in our own way, is living our lives "Our Way". Mostly you kept to yourself - your ideas, thoughts and feelings. I want you to know that, as your brother, I could pierce that veil and see inside you - that caring, sometimes thoughtful, compassionate and yes even loving person that you were. You never wanted to be seen as weak but always as a strong person that "did it your way". Your passing was an example of your living. I miss you very much and know that you will always live within my heart. Your loving brother, Ed##imported-begin##EDWARD "BUTCH" DEL BIAGGIO##imported-end##

“Doris, you will remember me as one of your childhood playmates when we both lived close to Roy and Nita Neisler's small grocery store. Also, my parents (Joe Cooke and Charlotte VanDyke) were very close friends of Glen and Dovie. ---- I heard of your husband's death through a Lexington High School newsletter written by Terry Oliver. Wanted you to know I'm thinking of you at this moment in time. Love, Glenda##imported-begin##Glenda VanDyke Taylor##imported-end##
