Doris was my first cousin and we had many good times together. We even all lived together at one time when we were real young. She was born one day after my brother Rince Holland who died on December 2, 2020. She got married and I moved to Memphis to work so we haven't seen a lot of each other over the years. I've always loved her and hate so bad what the wreck did to her. I know that she is not hurting now, it's the ones that she's left behind. She'll still be watching over them though. Rest in Peace sweet Doris and we'll be with you one of these days . Will love you forever--
