“ Georgia was like an aunt to me. She and my mother were very close friends, so I grew up with her and Mr. Cross. We traveled together many times visiting the Smoky Mountains, Historic Williamsburg, Gulf Shores, and even the Western United States. I remember our many adventures together. We would go to Memphis regularly for her follow up visits with a doctor. We ate at a Polynesian restaurant called "The Luau". I have so many fond memories involving my mother and Mrs. Cross. For most of my life, she never missed my birthday. Even after I moved to Nashville and later to Louisville, I'd sometimes be reminded of my own birthday because Mrs. Georgia's card would show up. She and Mr. Cross were members of our family. Maybe not by blood, but certainly by love and the many wonderful times we shared. In the days since I heard of her passing, I've thought of her often. Each thought brings a smile to my face. I remember when Mr. Cross died and we went to the house to be with her. She seemed so strong in the face of that loss. I'm glad to know that she is at peace. My thoughts are with her beautiful family. I thank them for sharing their mother with me over the years. Gail, Brenda, and Norman; I know you know this, but your mom was one of the kindest most loving people around. She will always live in our hearts.
