“ Max Jerry was a good man. We became friends thru our affiliation with the Tennessee Rural Letter Carriers' Association. Max and Edith were very committed and dedicated to our union. I will always remember the assistance and encouragement they gave me during my time as Association President. We remained good friends and I will always cherish our conversations as we traveled across the State of Tennessee together. I am very honored to have known Max and Edith Taylor. May God continue to bless this great family

“ Jerry and my dad Nolon were good friends. When Daddy took a load of cotton to Taylor Gin, he took me along. Jerry always had a wonderful smile and he gave me a special pencil and small log book so I could keep up with my weigh-ins when picking cotton. I still have the pencil and I still have love for Daddy’s good friend—Jerry Taylor. May God bring comfort to all who loved him.
