“ I knew Lisa very little back in the day. She was younger than me in school I knew her brother David better when they lived in Wilmington Illinois. I consider David a friend .Her obituary ran in our local paper and I felt compelled to reach out to her family and to David and let them know how sorry I was to hear that she passed. What I do remember of Lisa was she smiled a lot and seem to be a very upbeat person.

I hope she did not suffer and I hope her family will find comfort in knowing that my thoughts and prayers are with them

“ Lisa was a part of my family she always tried to be friendly with whomever she knew..this is a true story many people do not know about Lisa..for a vacation I decided to go back to Wilmington the area we both grew up in as kids, I was in my thirty's at the time, I was walking down main street and was heading to the Rustic bar to meet up with some friends and grab a beer.

Someone walking buy me who had had a little to much to drink bumped into me and wanted to start a fight she noticed and came to stop it not realizing who I was because she had not seen me in so long & she thought I was a stranger but recognized me moments later, the guy took off and we talked for a half hour or so.

Anyway we hugged and said our good byes but we started to keep in touch again on Facebook, when she knew she was going to die I told her how sorry I was but she said " It is Ok I am just going home to see Jesus." That is bravery and I will always remember that I wish more people were like that..I will miss you cuz

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy on the recent loss of your dear loved one. You are all in my thoughts and prayers. May the God of comfort be with you in this time of sorrow. May these words bring you hope, "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more, neither will mourning, nor outcry, nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." (Revelation 21:4) This promise will be fulfilled one day, until then, may all your memories sustain you in the days to come. Please visit jw.org to answer any questions about this hope.

“ I have known Lisa since we were at least 4 or 5 her parents known each other because of them we have been friends forever in day when she lived in Illinois . but thru Facebook we got back together I'm very prelivaged to say she and truely grow up together and to say she truely was a very special person in my heart to say the latest . The Almighty never gave me a blood sister but he did put her in my life so I truely knew what a sister was about . I will always remember every thing we did together I learnt ABC= boys and booze with her lol she was the best big sister I never had . Lisa Allen Jones I truely will miss you may your love and joy for Jesus Christ and God live thru us from here on out . Blessed Be

“ I got to know Lisa through Facebook. My husband went to the same school as her father in Scott Hill, Tn. Her father was a good guitar player. Life was hard in the south at that time so a lot of the guys went north to where the jobs were. It led her father to the Caterpillar Tractor plant in the Rockford, Il. area. When my husband got out of high school he went to the Peoria, IL. area and went to work for Caterpillar Tractor plant there. In 2001, we moved back to Tn. In the year 2012 I finally broke down and got a laptop computer. One day I was scrolling and caught her name and remembered that her Dad's name was Jr. Allen. I knew him as a good guitar player. Jr. is the name most called him down here. I got to know her on line. She has been a special blessing to me. Even tho I am many years older than her, She taught me a lot about being strong and leaning on our savior to help us through. She is in heaven now in her brand new mansion. No pain no more ! RIP LISA ALLEN JONES!

“ By posting on the online yard sale I never would've thought I would find a friend. A caring Christian, loving person, who put God and family first. I had the pleasure of helping to care for her and meet her loving family. I wish them all the comfort, love and prayers to help them through this difficult time. I love you all.
