“ Dear Granny,

I just wanted to say that I miss and love you with all my heart. I know that it has been four years but the memory of this day still hurts like it did years ago. Everyone misses you, Granny. We all know that you are watching over us in Heaven every day. I love and miss you very much.

“ Hey Granny. One year ago today, I was trying so hard to get to you to say our good-byes, but I didn't make it in time. I wish so bad I could have had one more talk with you, but I guess God needed you more. We miss you so bad. It has been a tough year, but I know you've been with all of us every step of the way. You always treated me as your own and I adore you for that. Keep your hand on Tim and everyone today as I know this is going to be hard. I'll be up there next week so we can talk. Love you!##imported-begin##Kim##imported-end##

“ Oh, Granny... You have no idea what a year it has been. It's been a full year since we last spoke on the phone. I miss you so much. Pop-aw has been amazing, mom has been amazing. We all are going forward trusting in the Lord that he has you, we know he does. Colton talks and thinks about you all the time, we look at pictures, he laughs at how he always tried to get into your snacks. Kim does a great job tending your spot, she enjoys the visits she gets up there and she told me about the deer, in fact as i right this a picture of a deer goes flashes by. I miss you and love you. I'm so happy we got to spend that time together and enjoyed talking to you. You were tired and ready and i respect you even more for that. You were the same from the day you held me as a baby until we spoke early that morning. Thank you so much for everything. Help us get through this day. I like to think its a celebration of 1yr in Heaven but its little help i rather have you but just being selfish. I love you granny.##imported-begin##Timmy##imported-end##

Love us, watch us, help us when you can via the Holy Spirit to help pull us through these next few weeks. Pop-paw is doing well but there is anxiety especially with him getting through the month. “ Hey Granny! I hope you like the autumn flowers I put out. I thought they were pretty with the leaves starting to change and all. I try to keep it nice and clean for you because I know that's what you'd want! :)

Tim lets Poppaw know that I'm taking care of it since it's harder for him or the others to get up there as often as I do. We love and miss you so much! Thanks for listening to me the other day. I could feel you there with me. I love you so much!##imported-begin##Kim##imported-end##

“ Hey Granny!!I'm really missing you this morning. Colt and I were talking and he said, "Momma, I miss Granny". It just breaks my heart. Tim misses you so much too...we all do! Popaw is so strong. He's doing good, but he's not the same without you. I need to get down and clean the house again. I hope you are ok with me doing it...I try to put everything right back in the spot you left it. But no one will ever be able to keep that house like you did. I go by and take care of the grave too, but you already know that. I like our talks; because I know you're there giving me direction. Please continue to watch over all of us. Talk to you later. Love you so much!##imported-begin##Kim##imported-end##

“ Granny I'm sorry it has taken me so long to post in your guestbook. I have been stubborn/prideful by trying to keep myself busy to help me not think about losing you. It's not working. I see you Granny in things like Carmex, Ludens Cherry Cough Drops, and most of all, my Papaw. I am trying to embrace these triggers as smiles instead of tears in honor of your memory. Granny, you loved me unconditionally. There is NOTHING that me, Tim, or Jeff could do that would make you judge or love us any differently. I don't know how Thanksgiving is going to be without the laundry hampers full of Granny's food, or on Christmas watching you hide your presents in your bedroom. I love you so much Granny and although life will never be the same, we will all keep trucking until we reach your meeting place at heaven's gates.##imported-begin##Karen Layden Brandon##imported-end##

“ Granny, I have been so stubborn and prideful!! All I have been doing is trying to keep myself as busy as I could possibly be so I wouldn't think about losing you. I have my tearful moments but I have worked so hard to make them short and brief. It's NOT working. I hear a song...I think of you, I see Carmex and Ludens Cherry Cough drops...I think of you, I see handwriting that looks like yours, and I see my Papaw trying to survive another day without you. I'm done living in denial. I will take all of these "Granny Triggers" and embrace them with all my heart. Granny you have truly loved me unconditionally. There was nothing that you judged me for or loved me any less for... ever. You have always been the first to defend me, Tim, or Jeff no matter what we had done. We all miss you so very much and I know how very proud you are of Madison and the honor and bravery she showed for you at the funerals. If I can be 1/2 the mom you were to mama and a 1/4 of the granny you were to me to my children/grandchildren I will be blessed. I love you Granny and I will cherish every memory forever.###imported-begin###Karen Layden Brandon###imported-end###

“ I love granny very much!She would always brighten up my day.I put silver nail polish in her coffin to remind her of the time she painted my nails silver in 2008.I visited her a lot this summer.Granny first got sick in May and had to go to Delta Medical center.Since then she hasnt been right there was a few months when she was recovering,but she broke her hip and had to go to quince rehab center and she wasnt doing well there.The day before her death they discovered that she had gain green,so they had to transfer her that night to baptist memphis.Around 7 am that morning she past away. Before she past she asked my great aunt jean for some water.When my mom got the call saying granny had code blue we didnt know she had already pasted.We rushed to the hospital and when we got there they said shes gone.....i never knew that the day before would be that last time i saw her alive.The week before when i got to talk to her before she went back to the hospital she was complaining about her ziploc bag that held her snuff and how it was coming apart, so i promised her a new one.Unfortunitley, i never got to give it to her ,but i kept my promise by placing the ziploc bag in her coffin.That night that i talked to her i felt something like i knew that this was gonna be my last time talking to her,but i wasnt for sure. The last words that i said to her and that she said to me was "i love u."I watched granny waste away.She was gone a few months ago.Christmas and Thanksgiving wasnt the same with her being in the hospital and rehab center.Granny may be gone but she is still with us,watching over us every step of the way.She is now in heaven with her son,my great uncle,Allen.I love u granny.Thank u for all you have done for me and the family.I love u with all my heart and i miss you.....##imported-begin##Madison (greatgrandaughter)##imported-end##

“ Granny-I've pondered what to say because the words just don't come very easy for me. It's been 2 weeks today since God got a wonderful lady to join him in Heaven. We all miss you so much, but knowing I will see you again, helps ease the pain. You treated me just like your own and I love you so much for that. I hope me and Tim made you proud with Colton! He loves his Granny and he will never forget all the times he shared with you at your house. He loved eating your cheese puffs! I know you're watching down over us and keeping us safe. Life just won't be the same without you, but we will continue to live on until we get to see you again! I love you Granny with all my heart and I miss you dearly.##imported-begin##Kim##imported-end##

“ *Once I was afraid of dying, terrified of ever-lying,
petrified of leaving family, home and friends.*

*Thoughts of absence from my dear ones,
...brought a melancholy tear once,
and a dreadful fear of when life ends.*

*But those days are long behind me,
fear of leaving does not bind me,
and departure does not hold a single care.*

*Peace does comfort as I ponder,
a reunion in the yonder,
with my dearest one who is waiting for me there.##imported-begin##Tim##imported-end##*
