“ Mary Lou's mother raised my mother (her sister). Their relationship was more of a mother/daughter than sister/sister and Mary Lou was more of sister to my mom than a niece. Some of my fondest memories were the visits between my mom, Mary Lou's mom, and Mary Lou. I loved the banter, couldn't get a word in edgewise, loving chatter between these three women. I've stayed in touch all these years with my cousin Mary Lou and as long as I had first Mary Lou's mother, then Mary Lou in my life, it felt like my own mother lived on. I love you so much, Mary Lou, and I will miss you forever. Say hello to Mamie Oma and my mother for me. Heaven's in for some great conversations full of laughter, story telling, and love.

“ Back in the late nineties my mom, Jane VanCleave and Lou took a trip of a lifetime. They traveled together to California and all points in between. They called it their Thelma and Louise trip! :) They went where they pleased, when they pleased. It was a big fun adventure. They visited me in San Francisco and accidentally got locked in my laundry room. There's a window that only opened a crack and heard some voices I couldn't really make out. So I opened the door and there they were, laughing and having fun. Just another adventure.

They are first cousins but more like sisters. Lou's smile always warmed my heart. You are missed. My condolences to Sandy, Kim and Monty and of course all of her family, grandkids especially. She was a very special lady who will always live on in our hearts.
