“ Paul Williams was a wonderful neighbor over on Brown Street for many years. To say he was talented would be an understatement. Anyone who knew him or read his articles in the Progress would come away better for the experience. Paul built the finest cedar chests, flew airplanes, and lived with gusto generally. You never met a friendlier man, or more decent. Another member of the Greatest Generation laid to rest. Rest in Peace, good neighbor! ”

Henderson county produced no finer sons than the Williams boys. They had a passion for life and we're some of the first motorcycle enthusiasts. I am sure their mother is playing the piano in Heaven, with her three children enjoying every note.
