“ Dick Wharton has been a part of my life for over 40 years....he was at times like a father and one of the best scrabble players I ever known. I'm sure he's walking around with friends on the other side right now. watching us pay respect to him for a lifetime of experiences shared on the earthy stage. I'm glad you are finally free Dick. Play your sax loudly so we can all find you when we get to the other side, especially your blue eyed wonder.
