“ Garren, I know you don't know me, but I knew your grandmother and grandfather Mills Each were loving people with problems that were hard to understand, but they did understand love. Love for their family and each other. Garren, from the letter you wrote you hae that kind of love and understanding also. I am sure that your Dad understood your love and treasured it. May God help you though this time and through your life.##imported-begin##betty Carrington##imported-end##

“I Never Understood”

*I felt such bitterness, so much anger.
The man I called my Dad, was nothing but a stranger.
The drugs and alcohol I couldn't comprehend. I've never understood it,
Now your road is at its end.
Looking through our life together, I'm left here to weather the questions and emotions I have had.
As I look through your things and read your words, time passes and I grow to be a man.
I begin to understand, I'm beginning to see, it wasn't about your LOVE for me but just how quickly an addiction can turn upon a man.
I wish we could have taken away the hurt we both felt inside, the guilt and anger driving you insane.
I'd rather you be in Heaven receiving tons of hugs, than being on earth, battling a disease called drugs.
I never understood, but now I think I do and all that really matters
now is DAD I LOVE YOU.....Garren###imported-begin##Dena

“ My sweet precious Garren you will be in my prayers. Always remember that the proudest thing you daddy ever accomplished was having you as his son! Dena, I know Warren loved us all, but you and Garren the most. May God Be with you and comfort you both during this difficult time. Warren is in a better place looking down on us, he will be another angel in heaven. Lisa and Stewart, Warren always had a big heart filled with love for his family and friends may God be with you. Love you all, Jennifer Moore##imported-begin##Jennifer Moore##imported-end##
